Dear Paul,

In Washington all day for oral arguments before the appeals court in the spectro case (looks good) and conferences.

Before bed and work in the a.m. want to thank you for showing the story idea to the writer/producer. Appreciate it.

I'm not building any hopes. Now there is confirmation of the story in new official records. Not as it relates to Olson, but in general.

Of course everyone always has used for money but now I have a special one. I've finally located a student who wants part-time work. She goes to night classes. She has been working on the files and doing very well. The mess in the basement, and it is a mess as well as mess, is getting straightened out.

The lecture bureau got me a couple of speeches and this is what I'm using to pay here. I have another next week so it looks like I'll be able to pay her for what she has time for through the rest of the college session.

Thanks also for Penn's TCI. I skimmed them while resting.

Lil is busy on taxes and I'm to bed. //// Have to be in court again Thursday and now the trips tire me.

Our best,
